A COLLECTION IN COLLABORATION WITH THE MAURITSHUIS MUSEUM

"FOR THOSE WHO DON'T SEE CLASSICAL AS THE PAST, BUT AS A SOURCE OF ENDLESS BEAUTY AND INSPIRATION."

EGGLON VAN DER NEER

*Interieur met handenwassende vrouw
Interior with a Woman
Washing her Hands
1675*

A moment caught between ritual and allure. Inspired by Van der Neer's intimate genre scenes, the Seduce design translates the fluid drape of a dress into print – soft, poised, suggestive. This is elegance with a whisper, where fabric becomes gesture and stillness hides intention.

GERARD DAVID

*Boslandschap Wooded Landscape
c. 1510-1515*

Every beginning is born from stillness. Our design Whisper was inspired by the quiet side panels of Gerard David's altarpiece, presenting empty landscapes, where the only meaning lies in the rushing of the trees. A meditative design that celebrates the felt, yet unspoken presence of nature.

HANS HOLBEIN DE JONGE (atelier van)

*Portret van Jane Seymour
Portrait of Jane Seymour
(1509?- 1537), 1540*

Threads of power, delicacy, and design are woven into every line. Inspired by the regal fabric of Jane Seymour's embroidered gown, this geo quietly honours the grace and structure of royal design. Shapes repeat like rituals: structured, luminous, and brimmed with history. A pattern where elegance is measured not in excess, but in the weight of every single detail.

SIMON LUTTICHUYS

*Stilleven met Chinese dekselpot, hazelnoten en sinaasappel
Still Life with Chinese Vase, Hazelnuts and Orange
c. 1650-1660*

The transparency of the precious Ming porcelain as portrayed by Simon Luttichuys was transformed into a delicate design, mirroring Luttichuys' refined restraint. The centre of this classic still life is now the origin of a contemporary composition celebrating exceptional materials and timeless craftsmanship.

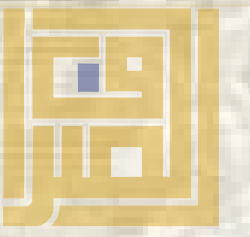

FLOURISH
351235

JAN DAVIDSZ DE HEEM

*Vaas met bloemen
Vase of Flowers
1670*

A joyful celebration of nature's abundance, but also a reminder of our own existence. The Flourish design presents us life's bouquet and reminds us how precious our own beauty is. Flowers may fade, but Flourish will bring you blossoming days, all year round.

JACOB VAN RUISDAEL

Gezicht op Haarlem met bleekvelden
View of Haarlem with Bleaching Grounds
1670-1675

The majestic skies of Van Ruisdael are quintessential for classic Dutch landscapes. They are so marvellous, that we chose to zoom in on them and present you Cumulus, a design that captures the quiet grandeur of drifting light and shadow. These clouds will replace your sorrows with dreams of times long gone by.

CAREL FABRITIUS

Het puttertje
The Goldfinch
1654

Carel Fabritius painted the yellow streak on the goldfinch's wing in an abstract fashion in order for the bird never to be able to fly again. From this abstract notion comes this Painterly pattern. A sequence of rich and saturated colours, straight from the Goldfinch's palette.

JOHANNES VERMEER

Meisje met de parel
Girl with a Pearl Earring
1665

Vermeer's use of expensive pigmentation enables us still today to marvel over the clear and captivating colours. Analysing the enchanting palette of this composition, we discovered such rich tones and wonderful hues. This Painterly design depicts Vermeer's masterpiece in a new arrangement, set to the instrumentation of the present.

JAN DAVIDSZ DE HEEM

Vaas met bloemen
Vase of Flowers
1670

Like buds about to blossom, the Painterly design of De Heem's Vase of Flowers is bursting with sizzling pink and orange hues, balanced out by the sensible earth tones and accommodating mint green. The dynamic composition of colours is kept together by structural logic, just like the stems in a vase.

VISTA

CORNELIS VROOM

Rivierlandschap gezien door bomen
River Landscape, seen through the Trees 1638

A quiet descent into depth. Inspired by Vroom's sweeping river views and softly layered tones, the Vista mural lures you in and invites you for a long and inspiring stroll along the banks. The romantic atmosphere is reflected by the pastel coloured horizon.

Magnifique

True art has the power to draw you in. Visitors of the Dutch Mauritshuis museum in The Hague gladly immerse themselves in beautiful creations by Johannes Vermeer and Jacob van Ruisdael. Their paintings embrace you completely. You wish you could stay in those rich and colourful compositions forever. Well, guess what? Now you can.

For the first time in Eijffinger history, the Mauritshuis museum has handed over some of their top pieces to us and we have transformed them into an astonishing new series: Magnifique! We viewed the most exquisite details up-close and present them in a new fashion. We uncovered mesmerizing colour patterns that are still fresh today. Some of the most memorable, figurative classics have undergone an unbelievable transformation into abstract, eye-catching patterns.

Magnifique beautifully bridges the gap between 17th century painting and 21st century living.

THE ART OF COMBINING WALLPAPER, BY OUR DESIGNERS

As a design team, we naturally love beautiful colour palettes - but things get truly exciting when we step just outside the lines. Bold combinations bring an unexpected twist and add real vibrancy to a space. Here are a few examples with just that special touch.
